SUMMARY

I am a recently graduated Computer Engineer with a passion for Software Development, specializing in the MERN stack (MongoDB, Express.js, React, Node.js) and proficiency in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and MySQL. My solid foundation in both front-end and back-end technologies enables me to build scalable, high-performance web applications and craft responsive, visually appealing user interfaces. My expertise with GitHub ensures seamless version control and collaboration. Eager to apply my diverse skill set in real-world projects. I am committed to continuous learning and excited to contribute to an innovative team.
